

CRAZY MILLER KILLS THREE

Fires Shotgun Into a Crowd at a Band Concert at Winfield, Kansas.

IS SHOT BY POLICE

After Being Wounded by Officers He Shoots Himself and Dies from Bullet.

Winfield, Kas., Aug. 14.—Gilbert Twigg, aged 20 years, armed with a double-barreled shotgun, fired repeatedly into a crowd of 5,000 people at a band concert here.

Three persons were killed outright, three fatally injured, and twenty others were injured, some so seriously that their recovery will be in doubt for some time.

While he was still loading and firing into the panic-stricken crowd of men, women and children, Twigg was shot down by Policemen George Nichols. Even then Twigg's mania for shooting held sway, and he drew a revolver from his pocket and fired a shot into his own body.

Dead and injured. The dead are: D. Bowman of Oxford, Kas.; Sterling Rice, a carpenter; Dawson Tillotson, a barber; Gilbert Twigg.

Those injured and the places they were shot are as follows: Mrs. John Barnard, neck; Archie Burdette, scalp; Charles Baird, arm; Samuel Compton, arm and leg; William Conchman, arm; Oils Carter, head; James Clarkson, back and arm; Elmer Davis, scalp; Elmer Farnsworth, abdomen; Arthur Mansford, hand; William Moore, arm; R. E. Oliver, shoulder and back; Clyde Reed, hip; Benjamin Ridgway, head; Port Smith, head; J. B. Story, chest and knee; Charles Thoms, knee; Harry Thom neck; Claud Wagoner, shoulder; William Wilkins knee.

Musician Is Shot. There were a number of persons slightly injured by shot and many hurt in the panic that followed the shooting, but most of these were able to go to their homes without the aid of the police, and their names are not known.

The band had just finished playing a waltz, when Twigg stepped out from an alley a half block distant and, deliberately taking aim at the bandstand, fired two shots. R. E. Oliver, a musician, fell at the first shot, but the crowd, not realizing what had happened, rushed toward the slayer, believing that there had been an accidental shooting of some kind.

Fires Into Crowd. As the crowd closed in on Twigg he discharged two more shots at them, causing a scattering in every direction. With the crowd fleeing, the man stood firing at random in every direction.

Men and women howled and shrieked and ran, but no one seemed able to stop the carnage until Policeman George Nichols confronted Twigg and fired a bullet into his head. Then the dying man drew a revolver from his pocket and shot himself.

Was Philippine Veteran. The dead and dying were by this time scattered all over the street and the frightened people, believing that shooting was coming from every quarter, sought safety in flight. It was almost an hour before they realized what had happened and recovered sufficiently to take care of the injured. Gilbert Twigg was a miller by trade. He came to Winfield twelve years ago and became an employe of the Baden mills, where he worked for a number of years. The boys around town commonly referred to him as "Crazy Twigg," but no one thought him dangerous. Later he went to New Mexico, returning in time to enlist as a soldier for the Philippines.

FORMER NUN TO CONTEST WILL

Mrs. Agatha Glantz Is Disinherited for Renouncing Vows.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 14.—Mrs. Agatha Glantz of Milwaukee, daughter of Leonard Thelen, who was a well-to-do farmer of Somers, Wis., has filed notice of contest of her father's will. He bequeathed an estate of $30,000 and cut her off with $500, because she had renounced her vows in a Catholic sisterhood to marry her present husband. Mrs. Glantz was known as Sister Agatha in the Dominican order in Milwaukee and worked with the order several years before she fell in love with her present husband, whom she married several years ago. Since that time she has been estranged from her family.

Guessing Contest. "Don't you know that it is wrong to gamble?" "Yassir," said Pickanniny Jim, as he shook the dice. "I know it's wrong to gamble, but dishere isn't gambler; cishere is a guessin' contest."—Washington Star.

PRIEST AGAIN ATTACKS WISCONSIN HOLY HILL

Declares Against Pilgrimages to Alleged Shrine, Charging Its Existence to Infidels.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Aug. 14.—The Rev. J. J. Keenan, who denounced Holy Hill pilgrimages in his sermon on Sunday, said that Armstrong and Le Count, authors of books on cures effected at Holy Hill, were infidels and unworthy of notice.

"These books were written to sell," said Father Keenan, "and the authors made the most of improbable tales simply to fill their books."

"The people in general are attracted by the marvelous, and every such story that is published awakens illusive hopes in the minds of some afflicted persons. They spend their money and feeble energies in getting to the place where they hoped to be helped, and they come back worse than before. If the claims of Holy Hill had the sanction of the church authorities I certainly would have heard something from them by this time, but not a word has come from them. They have no concern in it. Then who has? There must be revenue in it for somebody, else there would not be such an effort to keep up the claim that the afflicted can be healed by going there."

RUSSIAN RULER OF MANCHURIA

Admiral Alexieff Has Been Appointed Aide-de-Camp to the Czar.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 14.—A new vice royalty, comprising the Amur district and the Kwan Tung province, created Aug. 11, 1899, has been established. Heretofore the Amur district has been controlled by a governor general. A ukase signed by the czar and promulgated Aug. 2 appoints Admiral Alexieff, aide de camp general to the czar, as viceroy to this far eastern territory, and declares that he be vested with supreme authority in all the branches of the civil administration, the direction of which will no longer be in the hands of the ministers.

For some time Russia has been considering the advisability of placing the control of all her far eastern territory and Manchuria under one head. Instead of three, as at present. As long as the Russian occupation of Manchuria shall last, Viceroy Alexieff will be in charge, and will command the troops in that region, but when the evacuation shall occur he will simply have control of Port Arthur and Taitienwan zone, through which the railroad runs, in addition to the possessions which are in doubtably Russian.

LIQUIDATION—WHEN THE FLESH-POT BOILS OVER

JETT AND WHITE FOUND GUILTY

JURY FINDS TWO MEN KILLED LAWYER MARCUM.

THEY ARE GUILTY OF MURDER

This Is Their Second Conviction, and It Is a Surprise to the Country.

(Special by Scripps-Melroe.) Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 14.—Curt Jett and Tom White are guilty of the cold blooded murder of James B. Marcum and their punishment has been fixed by the jury as life imprisonment in the Kentucky state prison. This decision was reached this morning and ends one of the hardest fought trials in the state of Kentucky.

Owing to the prominence of the Hargis faction in the section of the state it was thought Jett would be freed while White might receive a short sentence. The prosecution was conducted by a brother of the dead man and the court room for weeks past has been under martial guard and the prisoners closely watched.

TAXES IN INDIA TO BE LOWERED

Salt and Income Schedule May Be Reduced for First Time in Years.

London, Aug. 14.—Lord George Francis Hamilton, secretary of state for India, in presenting the Indian budget to the house of commons today, proposed that the salt tax be reduced to 25 per cent, and that there be an extension of income tax exemptions, thereby reducing the surplus $1,750,000. Should his proposition be adopted it would be the first great reduction in India's taxes for twenty years. Lord George Hamilton added that fears regarding a scarcity of food in India this year might be dismissed.

PRINCESS LOUISE ESCAPES DEATH

She Is Seized with Cramps While Bathing, and Might Have Drowned.

Copenhagen, Aug. 14.—King Christian is slowly recovering from the shock he experienced on hearing of the narrow escape from drowning of his favorite granddaughter, Princess Louise, of Schlesburg-Lippe. The princess who is the oldest daughter of Crown Prince Frederick and married to Prince Adolph of Schaumburg-Lippe, was bathing in the sound near Charlottenlund castle, and, being a good swimmer, she had gone far out when she was suddenly seized with cramps and began to sink. She cried for help and a man servant, seeing her desperate plight, jumped in the water and swam to her rescue. The princess, though much exhausted, did not lose her hold and was safely brought ashore. Medical attendance was immediately forthcoming and the princess, who was cold and weak, was wrapped in dry clothes and conveyed to her residence. It is not feared that any ill consequences will result from the princess' misadventure.

PANAMA TREATY

Panama, Aug. 14.—Advices from Bogota, dated Aug. 8, state that the canal treaty committee has presented a report accepting the treaty, with nine substantial modifications. Senators Perezoto and Joaquin Uribe signed a minority report in favor of rejecting the treaty absolutely. The senate by a vote of seventeen against eight votes, approved a motion to discuss the treaty in public sessions.

AWFUL CRUELTY IN THE BALKANS

TURKISH SOLDIERS PLAY THE BRUTES TO PEASANTS.

BURNED FOURTEEN VILLAGES

Uttered Women and Killed Defenseless Peasants After Defeating Insurgents.

(Special by Scripps-Melroe.) Vienna, Aug. 14.—The Die Zeit publishes additional reports of the fighting near Monastir and reports that the Turks have allowed awful atrocities to be perpetrated by their soldiery upon the poor peasants who were left behind when the insurgents fled into the mountains. The stories printed show great cruelty.

Insurgents Flee. It is reported that two thousand insurgents were driven by the Turks into the mountains and escaped but that many of their families were left behind and were frightfully treated by the soldiers. Fourteen villages between Uskub and Velez were totally destroyed and the women brutally treated and babies killed.

MEXICAN TROOPS ARE DEFEATED

Yucatan Indian Forces Drive the Government's Army, and Inflict Heavy Damages.

Mexico City, Aug. 14.—The bloodiest battle of the Maya Indian rebellion has just been fought in Yucatan, according to dispatches received here. It is stated a large body of Indians, who were supposed to have been subdued, made an unexpected attack upon a detachment of government troops. Sixty of the latter were killed or seriously wounded. The soldiers were forced to withdraw from the field, leaving their dead and wounded behind. A number of Mayas were killed.

LOANED MONEY IN MILLIONS

Provincial Witnesses Appear in the Humbert Trial in Paris.

Paris, Aug. 14.—The Humbert trial was continued today. Several provincial creditors of the Humbert family testified to loans of many millions of francs. Their statements showed their credulity regarding Mme. Therese's story of the Crawford inheritance. Among the witnesses was a banker named Schotmans, whose brother was mysteriously assassinated during the time of the Humbert complications. Mme. Therese dramatically demanded Schotmans to exonerate her brother, Romain Daurignac, from the suspicion of complicity in his brother's death. The witness answered that his brother did not know the Humberts. Mme. Therese thereupon made a declamatory statement, saying that the mass of falsehoods would disappear in a few hours when her disclosures were made.

PYTHIAN HOME IS VOTED DOWN

Iowa Grand Lodge Defeats Plan for Proposed Sanitarium.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Aug. 14.—By a vote of 320 to 162, the Iowa Grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias turned down the proposition to build a sanitarium and Pythian home at Colfax. In the drill contest at Lake Manawa between the various companies of the uniform rank, Sheldon won first place and Valley Junction second. The following officers were elected by the Rathbone Sisters: Chief, Mrs. Linnie Florio, Osceola; mistress of records and correspondence, Miss Effie Parsons, Marion; mistress of finance, Mrs. Clara McQuiston, Des Moines.

RABBI GRANTS DIVORCE IN A POLICE STATION

Jewish Woman Claims Her Husband Takes Better Care of His Horses Than of His Spouse.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Morris Freeman, 169 Liberty street, blames the loss of his wife to his affection for horses. His wife says he cared more for his horses than he did for her, that he fed them first and more regularly, fondled them long after he had ceased to care for her, and even housed them more comfortably than he did her.

But his last and worst escapade, according to her story, was when he deserted her for several weeks to attend to some horse trading. For this Mrs. Freeman caused his arrest, and, according to the ceremonies of the Jewish church, secured a divorce at the Maxwell street police station.

Mrs. Freeman, accompanied by Rabbi Joseph Komorski and several of her neighbors, went to the Maxwell street police station and confronted Freeman. Mrs. Freeman told her story and Freeman told his. Then their neighbors told what they knew of the matter. Mrs. Freeman was then told to remove her wedding ring. Freeman heard the order and shouted: "Bring me that ring. It is not hers now, it belongs to me." "No, it does not. Mother paid for it and I may have occasion to use it again soon," said Mrs. Freeman.

MT. VESUVIUS IS ON THE RAMPAGE

Activity of Volcano Increases, and the Lava from New Opening Pours Out.

Rome, Aug. 14.—Vesuvius is again causing intense alarm in the surrounding region, the eruption of the volcano being very heavy today. This alarming activity which followed the shocks of earthquake is augmenting.

The detonations are very loud and almost continuous while from a fresh opening at the base of the principal crater two streams of lava are issuing, which within a few hours covered a wide tract of ground. One stream has covered ground already arid from the previous eruptions, but the other is going swiftly toward the village of Ottaviano, the direction taken by the famous eruption of 1872.

The whole district around the volcano is shaken by frequent earthquake shocks and a perfect panic prevails, the population crowding the churches to pray or gathering in open spaces for safety. Experts, however, affirm that so far there is no reason to fear a serious disaster.

KING PETER MAY ABDICATE CROWN

Trouble with the Serbian Minister and the Ruler—is Virtually a Prisoner.

London, Aug. 14.—A dispatch says the entire Serbian ministry has resigned in consequence of the differences in the personal relations between the army officers who participated in the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, and those who took no part in the murders.

The Daily Telegraph prints a dispatch from Vienna which says that there is an unconfirmed report that King Peter of Serbia has threatened to abdicate, as he is virtually a prisoner in the hands of the military party.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

Architect Cobb's failure to provide for the heating apparatus in the new post office will make work in the winter months impossible and prevent the completion of the building in 1905.

The czar of Russia has appointed a vice regent to take charge of Amur.

Former Premier Salisburg is said to be seriously ill from exhaustion. Dissensions have led to the resignation of the entire Serbian cabinet.

Edward L. Dwyer, a former Chicagoan with a remarkable career, has filed a petition in bankruptcy in New York, naming liabilities at $74,000 and assets at $150.

Clergymen of Milwaukee have been considering the advisability of running Rev. H. H. Jacobs, university settlement worker, as a candidate for mayor.

Senator Aldrich says the new financial measure has not been drafted and that it will not be until all interests have been fully consulted by its framers.

Frederick Driscoll has criticized the action of the Typographical union in western strikes and charged gross violation of contract with the Publishers' association.

An unofficial statement has been made to the effect that the net earnings of the American Shipbuilding company for the year ending June 30, 1903, were $2,250,000.

The assessment of eight years' taxes and drainage district land in Chicago and Lyons has been asked of reviewers by assessors' attorneys.

CONGRESS MAY MEET EARLIER

An Extra Session Likely To Be Called To Assemble in October.

CURRENCY TALK

The Present State of the Finances Will Make Task a Difficult One.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 14.—Congress now seems likely to meet in extra session early in October, instead of Nov. 9, as originally planned. The decision is the result of a conference between President Roosevelt and Senators Aldrich, Allison, Platt and Spooner.

While the conference was called primarily to discuss the date for the opening of the extra session, serious consideration was also devoted to the two measures which congress will be called on to consider when it gathers at the president's call—the Cuban reciprocity bill and prospective financial legislation.

To President Roosevelt's desire that the reciprocity measure be promptly acted on was largely due the decision to call the national legislature together earlier than was at first intended. Mr. Roosevelt desires that the bill be disposed of before the financial question is taken up. He realizes that a tariff debate may be precipitated by its consideration, and, although the Republican leaders are resolved against revision before the next general election, it is acknowledged that the debate may be protracted.

Gives Plenty of Time.

Being aware of this danger, it was the president's wish to get the houses together early enough to obviate any possibility of failure, through lack of time, to dispose of the business in hand. The treaty having been ratified by the senate last spring, it now remains for it to be approved by congress, according to the agreement of last session, under which the Panama canal treaty was closed and the session brought to an end.

Three of the senators present at the conference are members of the senate committee on relations with Cuba—Platt, the chairman; Aldrich, and Spooner. All of them, particularly Mr. Platt, who has made a profound study of the situation in Cuba, regard the necessity for the enactment of the Cuban treaty legislation as very urgent.

Can Clear the Calendars.

It was pointed out, too, that if congress is convened at an early date the entire work of the extraordinary and regular sessions can be cleared by the time the national conventions are to be held next year. On many accounts this is regarded as desirable, and it would be a great convenience not only to the president, but also to members of both the senate and the house.

Concerning financial matters the Senators did not present even a tentative draft of a currency bill to the President, although some propositions which may subsequently be embodied in the measure were reduced to concrete form. No definite conclusion as to the shape of the proposed legislation was reached.

Financial Legislation.

It can be said that the Senate finance committee will draft no measure formally and conclusively until consultations have been held with other members of the Senate—Democrats as well as Republicans—with members of the House, and with the best authorities on finance in the country. It is the desire of the committee to be constantly in touch with the President, with other Senators, with members of the House, with bankers of the West as well as those of the East, and with country bankers as well as city bankers, so that some plan of legislation may be formed by the opening of the extraordinary session of Congress.

Will Consult Cannon.

The administration leaders want to see the proposed financial measure pushed through the coming session without fail, however, and, although no serious opposition is anticipated, if the subcommittee succeeds in drafting the sort of a bill it contemplates they are desirous that ample time be had for a thorough discussion. Representative Cannon of Illinois, whose support as leader of the next house will be almost absolutely necessary to the passage of the bill, will be one of the first to be consulted, and his views, it can be said, will have a most important bearing on the final drafting of the measure.

It is the hope of the committee to devise a genuinely elastic currency system—a system that will expand when the necessity shall arise and contract when the necessity shall have ceased to exist.

WISCONSIN SCENERY RIVALS THAT OF FOREIGN CLIMES

TRIP INTO VERNON COUNTY RE-VEALS MANY BEAUTIES.

NATURE SMILES ON ALL

The Country Is Full of Fascinating
Sights to Those Who Seek Them.

The graphic pen of Bayard Taylor has portrayed for us the scenery of the Orient; in our mind's eye we have followed Stoddard over Norway hills kissed by the midnight sun to all the beauty, grandeur and tranquility of the tropical countries. Howells among many others has shown us the sunny skies of Italy about which poets unweariedly sing. Thousands of such books of travel have been written and sold. We long for scenery; to the east we turn. Yet how few of the people of this country realize that in our own lovely America there is scenic beauty about which no American poet has chanted and no American author has portrayed to the unsleeping. Irving has fittingly said, "Never need an American look beyond his own country for the sublime and beautiful of natural scenery." We need not cross the ocean. Indeed we need not leave our own fair Wisconsin to find rugged grandeur or inspiring picturesqueness. Nature has given to our own state her share of beauty and if we search for it so may we find it.

Such were the thoughts which filled our minds as the train bore us from the capital city of our native county of Rock soon to be transported to the rugged rocks and quiet valleys of Vernon county. Only a short journey some will say, yet doubtless no journey of one hundred miles from the Bower City would afford more variety or beauty in a landscape. All know the country as far as Madison presents an appearance very much the same as we see about us every day viz., well cultivated farms and well kept buildings. After leaving Madison we cross Lake Mendota and soon stop at a small station in a quiet, shady grove where many a poor demented one has been transported to the hospital which we see not far away.

Then the train bears us on sometimes through green meadows, sometimes through wooded districts and over creeks which wind their way in many fantastic curves and seem lost in the distance. The country gradually becomes more rough as we pass on, and the creeks also more numerous and the train passes over a huge work of stone beneath which flows a little narrow stream whose transparent waters show the glistening pebbles over which they glide. Wild flowers such as Cranesbill, Anemones, Puccoons and Phlox are seen along the track interspersed with strange ones unknown to our eyes.

After leaving Ladell we find the country very hilly, but we see no hills on a miniature scale as ours. Some are covered with forest trees, others are found in meadows whose rounded crests actually give nourishment to grass, still others present the appearance of immense, elevated heaps of earth which Dame Nature seemed to place there because of a superfluity of building material. As we near the Wisconsin river pine trees, scattered among their deciduous neighbors, are seen growing wild upon these hills. Soon after crossing the Wisconsin river which flows tranquilly along among its green and sometimes wooded islets we arrive at Merrimac. Beyond Merrimac a portion of the country is very sandy. The crops in the valleys and upon those hillsides which are cultivated present a yellowish cast. Little plots of ground are cultivated here and there, wherever the land is in a tillable condition, a great many of the hills being so steep and rough that no plowing, cultivating, or reaping could possibly be done. At the foot of such we see the farm buildings, many appearing like doll's houses, nestled together, as if beseeching protection from the sheltering masses of earth towering far above them.

As we approach Kirkland we see a few rocks and the loud "puff! puff! puff!" of the engine as it bears us up the grade tells us we are quickly approaching one of Wisconsin's most beautiful scenic pictures, Devil's Lake. No brush can paint, nor pen portray the mysterious and lonely grandeur of this lake. To the person who has never viewed this piece of Nature's work, the greater part of it we must leave to his imagination and his hopes for future personal inspection. Poets have sung about lakes less beautiful about scenes less inspiring, less impressive to many the name conveys no sweetness to the mind from which fancy can weave beautiful thoughts or feelings, but this is taught to do so far as eclipsing its scenery. At Kirkland there are several small cottages some at the very foot of the immense hills and rocks which rise several hundred feet on our right. As the train bears us over solid rock at the very edge of the lake, we look across the blue rippling waters which form a striking contrast to the yellow row boats gliding smoothly over them. A huge massive work of rock with small pines dotting its sides and crest towers high on the distance. Close at our right, slate colored rocks rise many feet above us, one upon another huge and massive and at once wild and lonely, yet as they slowly disappear from our sight as we near Cliff House we are impressed with their magnificent grandeur and serene sublimity. Yet they are placed in such positions that one sees an immense treasure before succumbing to their treachery. But in spite of the vast alleged treasures no one has ever been known to find them or even search for them. Everyone on entering is possessed with a brave desire to go to the end of it and thoroughly explore all its dark caverns, but it has not been done to the knowledge of mortal man. We took a lantern and forced our way through the narrow passage being obliged to finally move on all fours. But at last our efforts were rewarded by entering a large room, high and with well worn walls. Then some steps led us into another passage, narrow as the first and into utter darkness. Finally we came to the place where all explorations have ended; every person brave enough to even reach that spot, has here lost all courage and returned again to the realms of daylight, as he again greeted the sunlight. Yet after leaving the cave the same longing for explorations again overwhelms one, which is again subdued by repeated trials of discovery. A strange mystery lurks about the place and after having carved our initials with those of other visitors, it was not with sad regrets that we descended the hill to resume our journey among the rocks and hills. Truly the scenery is inspiring but yet as we pass many isolated huts and lonely cabins, sheltered in some quiet valley by the rising rocks, our thoughts turn homeward and we long for the pleasant farm houses and rolling prairies of our own dear Rock county.

STATE GUARD IS HIGHLY PRAISED

Captain Morrison of the U. S. A.,
Pays the State Militia a Pretty Compliment.

"I consider the national guard of Wisconsin as a whole, a very efficient body of troops," says Capt. J. F. Morrison, U. S. A., inspecting officer of the Wisconsin National Guard, in his report to Adjutant General Boardman on the recent encampments. "They have faults but they are such as would be easily and quickly corrected if called into service and to offset their few weak points they possess many strong ones that only a considerable time and honest, conscientious and intelligent effort can give to troops. The spirit that prevails in the guard is admirable, all seem to want to be thoroughly efficient. They know how to shoot, are disciplined and well drilled, and physically up to their work."

BLACK DIAMONDS MUCH DEMANDED

Small Boys Are Very Industrious
in Filling the Coal Sheds.

To a stranger crossing Fourth Ave. bridge Thursday evening, the sight of two or three small boys industriously gathering scattered coals that had fallen along the track, into a bushel basket, was surprising. Not the fact that the boys were picking up the stray black diamonds, but that there should be such a quantity of them on a short side track was the odd part of the scene. Upon a closer investigation, it was noticed that there happened to be a car side tracked just at that place, where the coal on the ground seemed the most plentiful, and also, that this car was loaded to the edge with coal. Scattered chunks of coal are found along every railroad track, but not often are engineers so careless as to drop such a quantity by the side of the rails, as to enable two small boys to gather a big basket full in about five minutes and not cover more than a car length in doing so. Two women, evidently of the same family, helped the lads carry the full basket into a nearby house—a good example to set them.

THIS MEETING IS VERY IMPORTANT

Will Decide Upon the Fifteenth Celebration of the Founding of the City.

Citizens of Janesville who believe that the city's achievements merit a celebration in honor of its fiftieth birthday will meet at the city hall this evening. Two meetings of a similar nature have already been held, and at tonight's gathering it is hoped to be able to crystallize the rather unformed plans into definite shape. Mayor A. O. Wilson, who was elected chairman of last week's gathering, will probably preside over the meeting. The Old Settlers' society which placed on foot the movement for a semi-centennial celebration, feels averse to urging the celebration unless the citizens as a body show a certain degree of interest in the project and consequently a representative gathering is desired at the city hall this evening.

Fort Sheridan and Zion City excursion Tuesday, Aug. 18. Round trip only $1.50. Leave Janesville 7:45 a. m. For tickets and information apply to agents C. & N. W. R'y.

Miss Hattie O'Brien and Mr. Geo. Champion were married on Thursday by Judge Fifield. A special permit having been issued by the judge. They will make their home in Janesville.

LEWIS COMPANY PLAN CHANGES

WILL SHORTLY INSTALL MANY NEW MACHINES.

ARE TO INCREASE THE OUTPUT

Would Be Able to Run Nights, if
They Had the Help Available.

The Lewis Knitting works are expecting in the near future to install a number of new machines and not only enlarge their output but produce a different grade of goods in addition to their regular line. They employ one hundred and twenty-five hands at the present time and are turning out a line of high grade underwear. When the new department is in running order they will be enabled to manufacture a lower priced line of goods ranging from $3.50 up and $2.00 up for summer wear. The kind that is now put on the market by the firm is called "full fashioned" underwear, is hand-knitted and practically seamless. The cloth that will come from the new machines is what is called "cut and sewed," is a new method and is machine work both in knitting and seaming.

Addition to Old Line
The new class will be made in addition to the regular output of the factory and Janesville will have a very complete establishment for the making of this kind of merchandise. These kinds of underwear are made of lisle, sitrene, wool and silk. The enlarging of the capacity of the works and the putting out of the cheaper grades of goods in addition to their regular work, will enable the company to sell their goods in towns of a population of seven thousand and upwards; heretofore their product could be sold only in cities of 20,000 or more inhabitants, because of the high price and quality of the underwear. Linen and balbriggan are some of the materials used in making the goods on part of the machines now in use.

Remodeling Basement
The basement of the works is being torn up, remodeled and a new flooring laid to make ready for the different additions. There will be twelve new knitting machines placed in this part, and besides these there will be apparatus for seaming and stitching the cloth. The capacity of the concern, so far as the yardage goes will be greater than the amount turned out in the past. On account of the changes and alterations in the building, a store room has been rented to be used as a receptacle for the stock. The company expects to sell a greater amount of the new class of goods but the price will be about one-half of what their regular line now brings. "Our aim," said John L. Wilcox, manager, "will not be to see how cheap these new goods can be put upon the market, but to see how good we can make the lower priced garment."

From the East
The yarns for the different makes of goods are brought east and some imported, sent to the factory and shipped back east again to be sold. The outlook is bright for the works, as they have many orders ahead, and could keep working night and day but for the scarcity of trained help, the demand for experienced workers exceeding the supply. The business of the knitting works has increased largely during the last two or three years and the year just passed is the best ever known in the history of the company, and it is expected that much more will be done with the added lines.

New Stock Goes Out

The Rockford, Beloit and the local branches of the order have put joint committees in charge of all arrangements, and a glorious day for old Erin is anticipated. Games, speeches, and attractions of all kinds will serve to draw to Ho-No-Ne-Gah park, the scene of the picnic, one of the largest throngs, which has yet jammed that popular resort.

Rockford, Beloit, Janesville, and all the intermediate stations will contribute to the gallery of onlookers. Other attractions will be provided at the park.

Gossip For Railroad Men From
All Over the United States.

Though the North-Western road's route to San Francisco via Cheyenne and the Oregon Railway & Navigation lines is nearly 1,800 miles longer than the direct line, via Ogden and the Southern Pacific, a passenger can save $11.50 by taking the roundabout way. This is done to compete with Portland business, by which way the northern roads carry their passengers to San Francisco.

James C. Pond, general passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central, says he is perfectly satisfied with the $8 rate from Chicago to the Twin Cities and that as far as he knows there is no movement on foot to take out the rate.

All year tourist rates to Mexico City were advanced $1.50 by the Western Passenger association rate clerks. The Great Western is now the short line to Council Bluffs. The rate to that city was reduced ten cents.

President H. F. Whitcomb, General Superintendent Potter and other officials of the Wisconsin Central have gone on a tour of inspection of the road.

Minneapolis-Chicago lines are engaged in stiff competition for the business incidental to the meeting of the grand aerle of Eagles at New York.

It is reported that $10 will be used as the basing rate between Minneapolis and Chicago and that the $8 rate will be discontinued Sept. 3.

During the first week of August the Soo road earnings showed an increase of 18 per cent over the same time last year.

W. G. Rockefeller denies the report that the St. Paul road will issue authorized new stock.

North-Western Road.
Notice has been posted at the round house that the combination car number 911, which is run under the auspices of the "International school," will be on the slide track, at this place from August 13 to 19. Lectures will be given at the car by Mr. A. H. Cole, on combustion and firing twice each day, at 2:30 and 7:30. The lectures will be illustrated by stereopticon views and all engine men are invited to attend.

The bulletin dated from Chicago has also been put up at the round-house as follows: In the next 30 days, the M. and D. division will want to borrow a number of engineers. Five are wanted from the Wisconsin division and five from the Northern Wisconsin division. If any of the young engineers wish to go to the M. and D. for a few months as borrowed men, they are advised to notify John Heath, master mechanic, at an early date. Men who know the road are preferred.

A new bulletin board has been set up in the place of the old sign at the depot. It is slightly larger than the old board and has all the important times marked upon it. On the left hand edge, is a space for the number of the train, then the name of the place it has come from, after this the time it is due and lastly a space for remarks.

DATE NOT SET FOR DEDICATION

A's Finishing the Work on the East Side Odd Fellows' Hall.

Last touches are being put upon East Side Odd Fellows hall, preparatory to announcing the date of the dedicatory exercises of the remodeled building. The lodge room has already been occupied by fraternal orders at their meetings, a welcome relief after holding all gatherings in the dancing hall for several months.

All papering and painting in the building has been completed and the moldings are today being placed and the carpets laid. The combination gas and electric light fixtures have not yet arrived and this is the only possible delay anticipated. The date for the dedicatory services of the most handsome and completely equipped fraternal home in the city will probably be fixed at the meeting of Wisconsin Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F. next week.

The hall is used by a large number of fraternal organizations than any other hall in the city. Among them are the Wisconsin Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F.; Rock River Encampment, No. 3, I. O. O. F.; America Lodge, No. 26, Daughters of Rebekah; Ancient Order of United Workmen; Royal Arcanum; United Commercial Travellers; Ben Hur; Degree of Honor; Supreme Tent, Order of Maccabees; Mystic Workers of the World; Supreme Hive, Ladies of the Maccabees; Knights of the Globe, and some other societies.

COLOMBIA KILLS PANAMA TREATY

DEMANDS AN INCREASED BONUS

United States Will Not Raise As Offer of $10,000,000 and President Roosevelt is Expected to Close Negotiations for Nicaragua Route.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Colombia practically has killed the Panama canal treaty, and it is believed that President Roosevelt almost surely will decide to select the Nicaragua canal route.

Colombia struck a death blow to the Panama route when the congressional committee having the treaty under consideration adopted nine amendments, any one of which will be fatal to the treaty, owing to the impossibility of securing their adoption by the United States senate, which must accept or reject them.

Demands Larger Bonus.

Officials of the department of state and Senator Herran, the Colombian charge d'affaires here, are in the dark as to the exact nature of these amendments. From meager and mutilated official dispatches, however, it is known that the two principal amendments provide for a large and unreasonable increase in the bonus demanded of the United States for the strip of territory through which to construct the waterway, and for a provision which prohibits the Colombian government giving the United States absolute and perpetual control over this territory. The other amendments are considered unimportant.

Amendments Are Fatal.

The committee's action in order to be binding must be ratified by the Colombian congress, but there is scarcely any doubt about the ratification of the treaty in its amended form, as the amendments were agreed to by the friends of the canal, its enemies on the committee having voted in favor of the absolute rejection of the treaty.

Officials of the state department are disgusted and disappointed at the action of the Colombian committee, as it means a long delay in the construction of the canal. Senator Herran, Colombian charge d'affaires, agrees with the department, and said:

"I am bitterly disappointed. Those amendments are fatal to the treaty. I do not know their exact wording, but any amendment will be fatal."

Nicaragua Treaty is Ready.

Colombia has repudiated its solemn agreement and is attempting to sandbag the United States by demanding a larger payment. This demand will not be agreed to, first, because the United States will not be held up after the fashion of a highwayman, and, second, because it will be almost impossible to secure the assent of the United States senate to the amendment. Therefore, the United States will not recede from its position.

Treaties with Nicaragua and Costa Rica have been prepared for some months and only await the signatures of the negotiators to put them in shape to be sent to the ratifying bodies. If the vague dispatches received here give the true situation President Roosevelt will, in all probability, instruct Secretary Hay to affix his signature to them and secure those of the Nicaragua and Costa Rican minister. These treaties will then be referred to the United States senate and the congresses of the two Central American republics.

FARMER'S DASH FOR LIFE FAILS

Rides Fifteen Miles to Nearest Doctor After Being Kicked.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 14.—With an injury he knew to be fatal, Farmer McCauley of De Soto rode fifteen miles to a doctor's office and died upon reaching his destination. McCauley, who was kicked in the stomach by a horse, climbed upon the animal whose kick later caused his death and dashed madly for the village. Faint from the loss of blood, he toppled over from his saddle on reaching De Soto. He was carried to a hotel and died as the doctor, whose assistance in time would have saved his life, arrived.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday with probable showers Saturday.

PIG TIN.

Importations of pig tin into the United States in the past year were larger than in any preceding year. The statistics of the year's imports as presented by the Department of Commerce & Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, show that the importation of tin were 83 million pounds, valued at more than 28 million dollars. In 1890 the importations were 35 million pounds, valued at about 7 million dollars.

These figures of the year's importation of tin, and the growth of the importation since 1890, are especially interesting in view of the recent imposition of a duty on exportations of tin ore from the British Colonies of the Balaian Peninsula. The rapid growth in the use of tin in the United States, coupled with the fact that practically none of that article is produced in this country, suggested the importation of tin in the form of ore, and the smelting of the ore and manufacture of the pig tin at hand. A plant for this purpose has been erected in the United States, and the shipment of ore from the Balaian Peninsula was about to begin, when the Department of Commerce & Labor received word through the reports of the United States consul at Straits Settlements, that an export duty of $30 per picul (133 pounds) has been levied on tin ore being to prevent its exportation in the natural state, and to retain for the people of the Malayan states the profits of melting.

Whether this will terminate the project of importing the ore into the United States for smelting cannot yet be told. The Malayan states now produce more than half of the tin which enters into the commerce of the world, their total shipments in 1901 being 50 thousand tons, out of a total of 89 thousand tons entering the markets of the world in that year.

TOM JOYCE HELD TO CIRCUIT COURT, CHARGED WITH MURDER

JUDGE FIFIELD DECIDES CRIME WAS COMMITTED.

BLUHM RETAINED AS WITNESS

Man Implicated by Alleged Murderer's Story, Is Also Confined in Rock County Jail.

In face of the evidence presented to the court, Judge C. L. Fifield this morning held Tom Joyce to answer to the charge of murdering Herman Zimmerman. Ernest Bluhm was held as chief witness, under two thousand dollars bonds which he may be unable to secure, in which event he will be a prisoner at the county jail, on equal terms with the alleged murderer.

Only a little over an hour was required this morning to take the remaining evidence on the rebuttal, hear the brief arguments of the two attorneys, and render a decision on the complaint charging Joyce with murder. Two entire days had been previously occupied in the examination.

Although the audience had been inclined to be unruly throughout the examination, there was no need to call for order while the judge gave his decision. When it was learned that both Joyce and Bluhm were to be held, the common sentiment seemed to be commendatory. Although T. S. Nolan moved that the defendant be discharged he said that he hardly expected the motion to be of avail, and the self-appointed judges who jammed the municipal court room agreed that the evidence was too strong against Joyce to give any hope of his acquittal.

Joyce Talked of Arthur

When the judge called the case of the State of Wisconsin against Tom Joyce this morning, Mr. Nolan, attorney for the defense, said that the defendant was the first witness whom he wished to call.

Joyce's testimony developed nothing which had not been brought out at length yesterday. He said that before the Champion fight occurred "Arthur" wished to know of a good place to spend the night, where he would not have to pay as much as the Myers house asked, and he told "Arthur" that if he was not particular where he slept he might try the band stand. "Arthur" did not leave until after the Champion fight, at the close of which he first chased Bluhm, and then went up toward the southeast corner of the band stand, which was the last he saw of him. Joyce denied that he had said that the telegraph student would "get all the brass-pounders in town after him."

Ernest Shumacher told of the location of the tree under which he had seen the three men on the night of the fracas, while he himself was with a young lady not many feet distant. Mr. Shumacher went to the courthouse park last evening in company with the district attorney and pointed out the tree which he identified with that under which he saw the men. Measurements made last evening showed the tree to be 118 feet and 9 inches east of the center of Wisconsin street where it runs through the park, and showed the east edge of the band stand to be 42 feet west of the center of the center of Wisconsin street.

Not Drunk That Night

On cross-examination by Mr. Nolan Shumacher admitted that he had been drinking that evening and sat down in the park under a tree in the hope of feeling better, a hope which he said he realized. He maintained that he was not drunk. He gave it as his opinion that he had identified the same tree which he saw that night, but he admitted that he was not positive.

"You did not look for any particular tree that night, did you?" asked Mr. Nolan.

"Any tree would do," said Shumacher.

"You went for any old tree, I suppose?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then all trees looked alike to you that night?"

"They most certainly did."

"Then how were you able to identify that tree?"

"I simply said that it was my opinion that that was the tree."

This part of the evidence was of special importance, as Joyce located the tree west of Wisconsin street and south of the band stand. The tree which Shumacher located was not visible from the point where Joyce declared he remained while Bluhm went up the hill.

Bluhm Denied Joyce Story

Ernest Bluhm next took the witness stand, and proceeded to deny each of the essential items in the statement made by Joyce. He said that no "Arthur" was present, that Joyce did not remain at the foot of the hill while he went up to the band stand, that he did not say that he hit Zimmerman with a stone, that Joyce said nothing to him about striking a fatal blow.

He explained his inability to testify as to whether he hit Champion with a whiskey bottle by the fact that he was heated, and while in the thick of the fight might have used any weapon he could lay his hands upon. If "Arthur" had been present, however, he would have seen him either before or after the fight occurred, at both of which times Joyce declared "Arthur" was present.

Throughout his cross-examination Bluhm was inclined to be pugnacious and argumentative, and resented every suggestion that his word was questioned. It finally became necessary for the judge to request him to confine his remarks to answers to the questions propounded by the attorneys. The next witness, Albright, was also more earnest in his testimony than he had been when he first took the stand.

Albright also denied the truth of those statements made by Joyce which differed from the narrative of Bluhm and Albright.

"You're anxious to have Joyce get out of this scrape, are you?" queried Mr. Nolan.

"I certainly am."

"You are doing all you can to help him out?"

"Maybe I am."

Testimony is concluded.

This ended the testimony.

Attorney Nolan then moved that the defendant be dismissed, and asked for a few words.

He said that he did not expect his motion to have the defendant dismissed to be of any avail. The court had been acquainted with the mass of the evidence before any warrants were issued, and yet some new testimony had been brought up during the examination. It had been shown, he said, that Joyce had used a stone, but his fists in the first two fights, when he should have used a weapon in the second fight if ever Bluhm was the man who used the weapon, striking Champion with a whiskey bottle in the second fight.

Mr. Nolan urged that Bluhm be held for the crime with which Joyce was charged. Bluhm's face, he said, was the most degenerate he had ever looked upon, and was that of a self-confessed criminal. The fact that Bluhm had not seen Arthur signified little. The woods in the park were full of people that night. Joyce's story was not improbable. When he retired in the band stand, Arthur probably lit some matches to see what was in his bed. Bluhm went up the hill in the hope of surprising a couple. When he came back he told of doing up a big man.

If Bluhm's story is true, said Mr. Nolan, he chased Zimmerman. Why should he take a vacation from the wooden mills if his conscience did not trouble him? Why did Albright go to Joyce with the advice that he fix up a story? If Bluhm's story is true why did not Joyce cultivate the friendship of Bluhm and Albright.

NEW AMBULANCE VERY COMPLETE

WILL BE READY FOR INSPECTION TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

STARTS IN SERVICE MONDAY

Vehicle Is Very Handsome, and Its Equipment Is the Best on the Market.

Tomorrow afternoon the public will have a chance to thoroughly investigate the equipments of the latest addition to Janesville's metropolitan style—Russell's ambulance. The wagon will be at the Myers house corner and unless it rains, doubtless many people will avail themselves of the opportunity of inspecting it. It is a model of its kind and is a welcome addition to the conveyances of the city.

The Vehicle
Mr. Russell's new ambulance is bright and airy inside and this fact alone will likely cheer many an unfortunate victim of accident or sickness. It has also a high roof, so one can easily stand upright beside the cot in the vehicle, and there is plenty of room also and the interior fittings are as few as possible and so placed as to be well out of the way.

The Equipment
There are two adjustable ventilators on each side of the wagon near the roof and these have a hinged door, so that the opening can be closed altogether when necessary. On the glass, on each side and also at the rear and large "Red Cross" signs are painted. Lower down on each side the words "Private Ambulance," and near the driver's seat Mr. Russell's name is printed in large gold letters.

Suspended Cot
The cot is suspended by means of patent springs to one side and to the roof, and on the opposite are the two folding leather covered benches. Nearly all of the metal work is of brass which with the white finish, makes a handsome contrast. The shafts are of the curved pattern and are mostly covered with leather also. Perhaps one of the neatest appliances that the wagon is fitted with is the electric light system. Two tiny globes are placed in the two large brass side lamps, then there is a larger globe secured to the top of the roof inside and lights the interior of the ambulance and finally there is an electric search light which is hung from a hook near the rear door and is connected with a long cord so the light can be removed some distance from the door, and taken without the rig when necessary.

Plenty of good things to eat at the opening tomorrow evening at Charles Young's South River street place.

...Forty Years Ago...

Jamesville Daily Gazette, Friday, August 14, 1863.—A statement has been issued by the Soldiers' Aid society of this city. Truly a good work has been done and the blessing of many a wounded soldier will rest upon those warm hearted ladies of Jamesville who have ministered to his comforts or relieved his sufferings.

Proceedings of the Council.—The January committee reported the ordinance "all right." (Glad the ordinance has got out of the reports of the council, even if the cows did get into the gardens of the aldermen.) It went to a final vote and passed.

During the skirmish at Manassas Gap the rebels used a great many of those rifled musket shells. It is a terrible invention and it is to be hoped the inventor will get his reward when the devil gets hold of him, as he certainly will. When she bursts inside of a man, it is impossible to extract all the pieces of lead and copper. They are like an ordinary bullet, but have a copper chamber inside filled with percussion.

New York.—The Commercial's Washington letter says: Recent arrivals from Richmond state that some of the aristocratic rebels who migrated from Washington at the early stage of the rebellion are in indigent circumstances. The cases of a well known Washington physician and lawyer are mentioned. Here they lived in aristocratic streets attended by a retinue of servants; but in the capital they live in a humble place, and are their own servants.

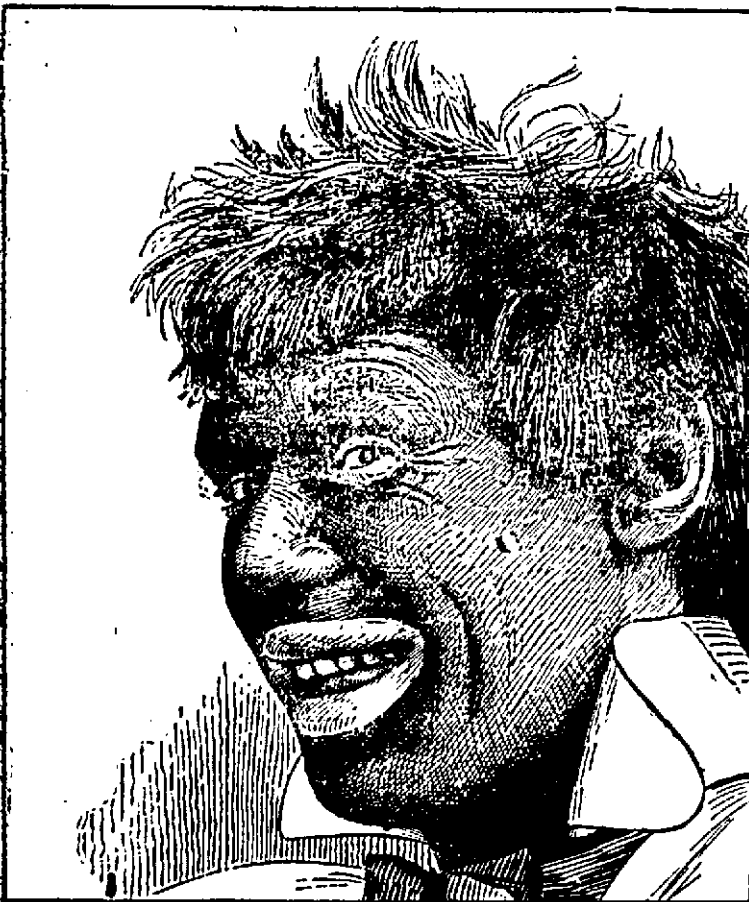

The colored regiment, the Third Pennsylvania, left Philadelphia about noon today, direct for Morris Island. A more joyous regiment never left the city. Not a man among the thousand was the least bit intoxicated. They started off cheering for Uncle Sam, the band playing "The Star Spangled Banner." The run between Philadelphia and Morris Island is 54 hours.

Coming Attractions.

No period in the history of Mexico is more interesting than the brilliant reign and meteor like fall of the Emperor Maximilian. It is during this period that the story of "A Royal Slave" is told. The leading characters are of the proud old Castilian stock of the aristocratic families of Mexico, and the Royal Slave himself El Agulla (The Eagle) is the last descendant of the Montezumas, the ancient Aztec kings, but himself a Peon, or slave, of the family De Oro. His is a splendid life picture of a race now scarcely more than a memory, and is a strange combination of kingly majesty, gentle tenderness and lion like fierceness—a splendid barbarian. The company is a splendid one throughout and the atmosphere and "locale" are fine carried out by the beautiful scenery and elaborate costumes. It is a play that an auditor will long remember with pleasure when the cheap, catch penny productions are forgotten. "A Royal Slave" is to be at the Myers Grand tonight.

Walter Whiteside after a tour of forty weeks closed his season at the

ARTHUR DEMING
Comedian With Henry's Minstrels

Century theater, St. Louis, and is now resting at his home, Hastings-on-Hudson, New York. He has secured the American rights to a new comedy called "We Are King," which play he will produce during all of next season. The new piece is said to be a novelty in play construction and Mr. Whiteside's dual role in it affords him ample scope for the display of his fine talent along both tragic and light comedy lines. Mr. Whiteside will present "We Are King" at the Myers Grand early next season.

CHICAGO WILL BE A CENTENARIAN

Monday Next Marks the Passing of the Hundred Years of Its Founding.

Next Monday will be the centennial anniversary of Chicago's birthday, and all patriotic lovers of the great and lusty western metropolis are expected to do honor to the occasion. It is true that the official burning of the birthday candles has been fixed for the last week in September, when the golf, muskellunge and vacation season is at an end, but Monday, however, is the bona fide date, the genuine first century post, for just 100 years ago, Aug. 17, 1803, a detachment of United States troops under command of Major Whistler, pitched tents on the banks of the Chicago river and began to build Fort Dearborn.

When bumpers are filled Monday, water will be the most appropriate beverage—plain, preferably, boiled, Lake Michigan water. For the day will also be the hundredth anniversary of the initial "bad water" complaint, which has kept life from getting monotonous here in the bustling times when we were not having a great fire or holding a world's fair.

First Kick Registered.
The first words ever written in Chicago, penned 100 years ago, the day the troops came, contained the prototype of this time honored "knock." Documents just received by the Chicago Historical Society reveal the fact. Second Lieutenant James S. Swearingen, of the United States artillery sat down by the campfire on the banks of the Chicago river after a long day's march over the land dunes and wrote in his diary:

"The water is not fit to use."

At Detroit, July 14, 1803, Lieutenant Swearingen wrote: "Left this place at 5:30 o'clock for Chicago and proceeded about twenty-five miles and encamped at 5 o'clock p. m., on a small branch of bad water."

After a march of more than a month the detachment arrived at Chicago river. Swearingen then wrote:

"Wednesday Aug. 17, 1803—Proceeded on our march at 6 o'clock a. m., thirty-four miles and encamped on the Chicago river at 2 o'clock p. m. This river is about thirty yards wide, where the garrison is intended to be built, and from eighteen feet and upward deep, dead water, owing to its being stopped up at the mouth by washing of sand from the lake.

Inclosed By Low Banks.

"The water is not fit to use. The bank where the fort is to be built is about eight feet high, and a half mile above the mouth. The opposite bank is not so high, there not being a difference of more than two feet by appearances. The distance from Detroit to the mouth of the St. Josephus is 273 miles from the mouth of the St. Josephus to Chicago ninety miles, making in the whole 362 miles."

These extracts from Lieutenant Swearingen's diary have just been sent to the Historical Society from the General Adjutant's office at Washington, which received them from Swearingen's great grandson, Robert S. Franklin, of Chillicothe Ohio.

Professor James W. Fertig is in correspondence with Mr. Franklin, and hopes soon to obtain the original of the diary for the society's archives.

Amateurs Meet In Contest For Championship Honors, Sept. 1-5, at Nassau Country Club. Other Topics.

All eyes in the golf world are turned toward the coming tournament for the amateur championship, to be held Sept. 1-5 at the Nassau Country Club, Glen Cove, N. Y. All the leading players of the country who are numbered in the amateur ranks will be on hand to participate and especially interesting will be the contest between the eastern and western cracks, who are rivals of the most pronounced sort. Last year Louis N. James of Glen View, near Chicago, captured the coveted title and championship trophy. This season the denizens of the Atlantic coast are determined to take away the laurels of young James, the most youthful champion in the history of the game in America. Walter J. Travis, ex-champion; Findlay S. Douglas, ex-champion; Eben M. Byers of Pittsburg, Frank O. Reinhart of Princeton, Percy Pyne II. of Princeton; Allan Kennaday, ex-champion of New Jersey, and a dozen others from the Atlantic states are to combine their attack on James. He will have to play sensational golf to win the honor for the second time.

Reinhart is picked by many judges of golf to be the next champion. He Women's Metropolitan Golf association, and Miss Higgins, winner of the women's championship of the Southern California Golf association.

All minor honors are stepping stones to the three great championships of the year which are conducted by the United States Golf association. The first was the open, for professionals and the most daring of the amateurs, and was played over the long and well kept links of the Baltusrol Golf club at Short Hills, N. J. It was at seventy-two holes of medal play. Match play will prevail in the second tournament, the amateur championship at the Nassau Country Club, and the last of the national meetings will be the women's championship at the Chicago Golf club, Wheaton, Ill., Sept. 28 and Oct. 3.

Women golfers in all parts of the country have hailed with delight the fact that Miss Thomas Adair, the famous Irish player, who has succeeded in winning the championship of Great Britain on two separate occasions, being the present holder of the proud title, and who is also the holder of the Irish women's championship, will visit America in the autumn.

Miss Adair will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clement A. Griscom at their Haverford (Pa.) residence, Dolobrans, during her stay in this country and from present arrangements Philadelphia's women golfers will have plenty of opportunity of watching their skill on the links against the prowess of the distinguished Irish player.

It was through the friendship formed between Miss Frances C. Griscom, the former American national champion, and Miss Adair during Miss Griscom's past visits to the well known Irish links of the Royal Portrush club that Mrs. Griscom extended the invitation to the young player to visit American shores, and the occasion shorn of all social features will rank as one of the most important golfing events of the year and will mark an epoch in the history of women's golf in this country of as far-reaching importance as the tour of the Oxford and Cambridge players.

The exact date of Miss Adair's expected arrival in America is at present unknown, but it is quite possible that she will be a spectator of the American championship tournament to be played at Wheaton, Ill., during the week beginning Sept. 28. There she will have an opportunity of witnessing the best form and play of which American women golfers are capable, but whether or not she is present, Mrs. Griscom has arranged for a special invitation tournament to be played the following week over the course of the Merion Cricket club at Haverford.

Many of the leading women players will journey from Chicago for this event, and with the opportunity of playing against the visitor all will be keen to be included among the invited contestants. It will, in fact, be a national struggle repeated with the added incentive of the presence of Great Britain's champion.

PRaises "FATHER BILL."

"Snapper" Garrison Says He Is a Great Jockey Trainer.

"Father Bill" Daly is the best man in the United States to teach a boy how to ride race horses," recently said Edward ("Snapper") Garrison, once America's greatest jockey. "This statement is not made because I learned to ride from 'Pa' but is the result of observation and experience. He gives boys more chances to learn than any other owner or trainer. He gives them mounts persistently in order that they may receive the finishing touches of their schooling from the best spot—the back of a horse running in a race."

Edward Garrison, nicknamed "the Snapper," was the best rider in America in 1890, however, said, Englishmen who saw him ride said that he was in many respects a second Fred Archer.

Garrison will always be known as the originator of the so called "American seat." He first adopted the crouching style of riding when a strapping boy weighing eighty-five pounds. In referring to the early days of what proved to be a sensational career on the turf, Garrison said: "I was ten years old and weighing sixty-five pounds when I was apprenticed to 'Pa'. He was a relative of mine by marriage, but this relationship did not give me any advantage over the other boys. I got hard knocks the same as they did. Many a time I deserved a thrashing, and I got it—and many a time I got a whaling just for fun."

OF UNTOLD VALUE

The Information Contained in This Gentleman's Statement is Priceless.

The hale, the hearty, the strong can afford to toss this paper to one side impatiently when they read the following but any sufferer in Janesville who has suffered hours of torture caused by kidney complaint will stand in his own light if he does not follow the valuable advice offered here:

Mr. W. Samp of 412 Euclid avenue, proprietor of the largest rock quarry business in Beloit says: "I had trouble with my kidneys for many years. It consisted mainly of a lame and aching back and there were occasional times when I had such severe attacks that I could not get out of the house for two or three weeks at a time. I was then practically helpless for it was painful to move. At other times it assumed a milder form being a dull aching across my kidneys, used medicines of different kinds but I never found anything that gave the satisfaction Doan's Kidney Pills gave. This remedy is worthy of a high recommendation and it is a pleasure for me to endorse it as doing all that is claimed for it."

Just such emphatic endorsements can be had right here in Janesville. Drop into the People's Drug Co.'s store and ask what their customers report.

TOM JOYCE IS HELD

In the hope of silencing them? The testimony showed that after the fracas he only went near them once, and on that day by special invitation to the dog fight. Mr. Nolan regarded Mr. O'Brien as one of the most damaging witnesses, but called attention to the latter's statement to Joyce's sister that he knew nothing which would injure Joyce. What Joyce probably said to O'Brien was not "I hit Zimmerman," but "Blum hit Zimmerman."

District Attorney Speaks
District Attorney W. A. Jackson addressed the court briefly. He urged that Blum be prosecuted equally with Joyce if guilty, but held that the comparison in the appearance of the two men was all in favor of Blum. The latter's looks were his misfortune, but his language was not that of the bar room and the prize ring. Joyce had showed himself clearly not a scholar of the Sunday school by the language he used in the court, while Blum's words were well chosen. Mr. Jackson also pointed out that the aggressor in the first two fights was Joyce not Blum, and that Joyce had admitted that he would not try to fight a man he did not think he could whip. It was reasonable that as soon as Joyce was whipped by Champion he should get stones in preparation for the next encounter.

Barney O'Brien's reluctance to state what he knew regarding the matter before he was brought into the court was because, said Mr. Jackson, he disliked being mixed up in a murder case. It was apparent that O'Brien had been telling the truth.

Held for Murder
Judge Fifield then gave his decision. The court room was hushed instantly, and Joyce's countenance betrayed a keener interest in the occurrences of the room than at any time previously during the examination although he gave no sign of any emotion. Blum's eyes were glued upon the judge as he began to speak. The judge stated that under the complaint, which was against Joyce only, Blum could not be held. He referred to the deplorable condition of affairs revealed by the facts brought out regarding the park. All of the assaults he regarded as without justification. From the medical testimony he believed there was no question that a crime was committed. The evidence of Blum for the state was direct and not so improbable that it might not be believed. His testimony, alone, against that of Joyce, would have been believed. To a certain extent his story was corroborated by other witnesses. The Joyce story, on the other hand, bore signs of strangeness, at least. It lay with a jury to determine which was true.

From the testimony the judge regarded it his duty to hold Thomas Joyce to the circuit court for murder that being the only crime over which the municipal court has no jurisdiction.

Blum Also Held
The district attorney then asked that Blum and Albright be required to recognize the court for their appearance in a sum to be fixed by the judge. He flatly changed this to a request that Blum only be held. Judge Fifield placed bonds at two thousand dollars, in default of which he should be confined in the county jail.

Both Blum and Joyce were then taken to the county jail, and there Blum will remain unless he is able to provide security in the amount of two thousand dollars. They will be obliged to appear in the circuit court of this county on the first day of the next term.

WOMAN FIGHTS WITH RAT
FINALLY KILLING RODENT

Is Twice Bitten by the Animal Before She Succeeds in Dispatching It With a Stone.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 14.—Mrs. Irving Shults of South Canaan had a fight with a rat and was badly bitten on the foot and hand. The rat is dead. For some time past Mrs. Shults' chicks have been disappearing with regularity, and investigation showed that they usually disappeared through a large rat hole in one corner of the coop. The woman set a trap, but in vain. The rat had disposed of sixty of the 130 chicks owned by Mrs. Shults.

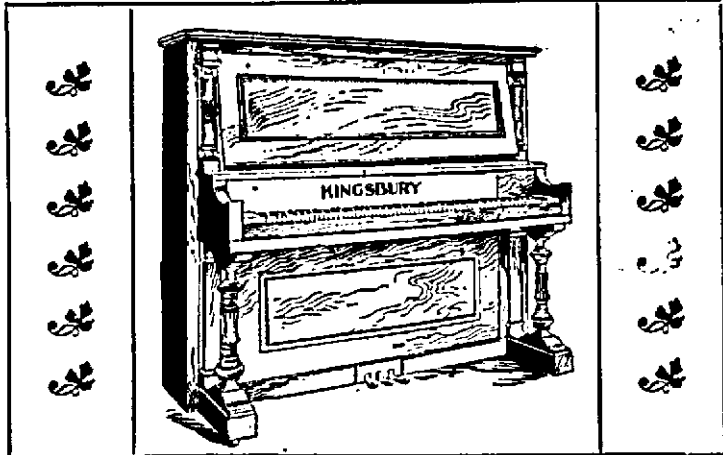

Mrs. Shults was conversing with Deacon Morse, when both heard a commotion in the coop. Mrs. Shults arrived in time to see a huge rat running toward a hole with his teeth in a chick's wing. The woman set her foot on the rat's tail, whereupon it turned and bit her foot. But she pounded the rat's head with her clenched fist. This made the rat let go the foot and bite her hand. Finally Mrs. Shults loosened a stone in a wall and with it dispatched the rat.
